

Photo courtesy of the North Mason Chamber of Commerce

In addition to the wayfinding signs funded by the North Mason Chamber of Commerce beautification project, companies and organizations are free to purchase their own signs. From left, Mason County commissioner Randy Neatherlin, Brian Petersen and chamber CEO Stephanie Rowland hold a Mason Transit Authority sign, the first business to purchase a sign.